

BACK TO WORK

An old song goes: "I'm tired, so awfully, awfully tired." That just about expresses the feeling of every citizen in the country today. Tired of being bored, solicited and advised what to do and what not to do. Advised to do anything but work. Back to normalcy, was the word of our late lamented President. The people have declared for business; good, clean, honest business and lots of it. They have declared against all schemes to upset the proper workings of a free government. It is time to consider the real principles for a successful future. Service above self. Think it over.

RECORD VOTE CAST IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

State's Total Vote Was Over 165,000—Coolidge Also Given Record Plurality

President Coolidge broke all election records in New Hampshire Tuesday when his vote for re-election exceeded the 100,000 mark, the largest total ever cast for any candidate for any office in New Hampshire.

He also smashed a state record in the size of his plurality. He led Davis in this state by 40,099, as compared with 32,000 for Harding four years ago. LaFollette's vote was insignificant. The third party failed to carry a single place and its total was only half what the progressive party polled 12 years ago when it ran a third ticket.

New Hampshire's total vote was 165,000, the largest ever cast. Winant's majority over Governor Fred H. Brown was just 12,382, and Senator Henry W. Keyes lead was over 35,000 votes. 239 precincts of 204 in the state gave Coolidge 59,645, Davis 59,523, LaFollette 8,551.

232 precincts gave for governor, Winant 57,099; Brown 79,717.

239 precincts gave for U. S. Senator: Keyes 57,121, Farand 51,402.

125 of 129 precincts gave for congress, Hale, R. 45,096, Rogers, D. 35,653.

153 of 164 precincts gave for congress, Wason, R. 46,550, Barry, D. 23,099.

Manchester was a big contributing factor to republican success. The democratic majorities of 9000 to 10,000 which were piled up in the Queen City two years ago were greatly reduced yesterday, the republicans carrying the city for the governor's

Council, and holding democratic majorities to small figures on all other offices.

The cause of the landslide is attributed to President Coolidge. He lugged everybody in with him. People who stayed at home last time came out Tuesday to vote for Coolidge and that helped the straight G. O. P. state.

Sheriff John T. O'Dowd of Hillsborough county, appears to have been the sole democratic survivor of prominence.

The governor and all the members of the council-elect are republicans. All the congressional delegates are republicans. Nineteen of the 24 state senators and 250 of the representatives are republicans and all the county officers in all the counties, with a very few exceptions are captured by the G. O. P.

The proposition to have another constitutional convention was defeated by about 2 to 1.

DECISION FOR DEFENDANTS

(By Associated Press) Concord, Nov. 6.—The New Hampshire Supreme Court today handed down a decision in the case of Cunningham, trustee, vs. Mary C. Ferguson and Couture Bros., of Manchester, in which the trustee sought to recover certain payments made by the Security Exchange company of Boston, of which Charles Ponzi was the directing head. The action was found to be one of place of contract and in ruling that in both cases the contracts were Massachusetts contracts the court declared that Massachusetts laws allow parties to a contract to set any amount of interest on loans of $300 or over. The court in finding the contracts true Massachusetts contracts awards the judgments to the defendants. The opinion was written by Justice Plummer and all concurred.

SENATOR LODGE SERIOUSLY ILL

(By Associated Press) Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 6.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge who suffered a stroke yesterday at the Charles Street hospital where he has been convalescing from an operation, was still unconscious early today, according to a statement issued by his physician. His statement said that the condition of Senator Lodge "must be considered critical." Dr. Cunningham stated that the aged senator had made a good recovery since July 27 when he submitted to an emergency operation on October 20. A second operation was performed. "The senator's convalescence was surprisingly good," he said. "There was every indication that he would be present at the opening of congress on Dec. 1. Yesterday at noon he was suddenly seized with stroke and became unconscious."

Cambridge, Nov. 6.—The condition of Senator Lodge was declared in a bulletin issued at the hospital shortly after noon to be "unchanged but hopeful."

BROOKHART HAS SLIGHT MARGIN

(By Associated Press) Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 6.—A partial recheck on returns from the Iowa senatorial election today shows Senator Brookhart to be leading his democratic opponent, Daniel F. Brock of Ottumwa by slightly more than 700 votes. An error of 300 in favor of Brookhart was the biggest factor in changing the standing.

MELLON SAYS ALL BUSINESS WILL IMPROVE

(By Associated Press) Washington, Nov. 6.—General business sees a "clear sky" in the opinion of Secretary Mellon, who now expects that doubts as to the future will be removed and commerce and industry will go ahead with a program of expanding developments. With the uncertainty of a possible deadlock on the Presidential vote removed Mr. Mellon foresees a generally healthy condition both at home and abroad. He traces the improvement in Europe to the settlement of the reparations problem through the Dawes agreement and expects that better conditions will result, not only in the countries immediately affected by the settlement but in the United States and other countries which have important trade relations with those who have signed the reparations settlement.

Today's Returns Continue to Roll Up the Vast Majority for the Republican Candidates--Administration Will Have Majority in Congress

(By Associated Press)

New York, Nov. 6.—The Republican triumph in Tuesday's election assumes an even greater magnitude as the counting of the ballots nears completion. Overnight returns not only boosted the total of electoral votes credited to Coolidge and Davis, but increased the likelihood that the new administration will have a dependable majority of its own party in Congress. They likewise listed to new heights the vast Republican majorities in several states already counted in the Coolidge electoral column and gave indications of depositing there all of the electoral strength now classified as doubtful. The latest recruits to the already crowded ranks of the Republican triumph procession are Montana and Nevada, having between them seven votes in the electoral college. That would increase the party total to 374 or 108 more than is needed to elect. For a time LaFollette had threatened to capture one or the other but the figures available today appear to make both safely Republican. The electoral bag of Davis and Bryan remained meantime at 136.

Washington, Nov. 6.—With the evidence of his popular endorsement steadily increasing as election returns continued to come in President Coolidge turned his thoughts to day to plans for the next four years, including the setting up of his own administration and the framing of a legislative program to be presented to Congress. In the latter connection interest at the White House centered today on the result of the Congressional contests. The present Congress, though nominally in control, the Republicans have been dominated by the balance of power held by the LaFollette group in both branches. Because of this it is expected few measures except the usual appropriation bill and possibly farm relief legislation will be presented by the President to the final session of the 68th Congress which begins in December.

The women of the state responded loyally to the call of patriotic service. They have kept the faith!

3 DROWNED IN LAKE ONTARIO

Watertown, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Three of the crew of the Glen Lucia, a grain freighter, were drowned at Charity Shoals near the main channel in Lake Ontario early this morning when they disobeyed the orders of Captain Charles of Champlain, Quebec, and took to the lifeboats. The freighter later was beached and the remainder of the crew was saved. In one of the worst wind storms in many years the boat was swept off its course and onto the shoals, opening several large seams in its side. Three of the crew who were ordered to stay aboard, disobeyed and put off in a lifeboat. Their boat was crashed against the side of the ship and the men drowned in a few minutes.

PUBLIC WORKS

The public works have granted the petition of the Portsmouth Gas Company for the opening of Lincoln Ave. to put in an extension feed line. The board is seeking bids for the retubing boiler at the Sherburne pumping station.

Apple trees planted near a perpendicular rock cliff at Cashmere, Wash., produced apples that were colored only on one side because the sun and light could not paint those next to the cliff. The trees were planted by John Ishmer and the branches pruned and trained to grow close to the rocks. This location was chosen so that the roots might find perpetual moisture at the foot of the cliff.

How Many Buttons?

Style is not a fierce-mustached drillmaster who keeps us all goose-stepping to one stiff pace. This idea went out about the time when swinging doors passed into the limbo of forgotten things. As long as men differ in height and build, so must the style-models they wear differ to suit the individual. You might just as well put on another man's clothes as to choose a style which was designed for somebody else. It isn't a question of one button, two buttons, three buttons or four buttons. It is simply a problem of what you look best in; what compliments and supplements your figure and type; what reveals your advantages—we all have some—and conceals your shortcomings—we all have a few.

Therefore, it behooves each of us who seeks to be well-dressed to undergo inventory and take stock of himself. What style-model is most becoming to you? What pattern, plain, striped or plaid, is most flattering to you? What colors set you off better—light or dark? What effect, single-breasted or double, make you cut a more personable, prepossessing figure in your clothes? Once these all-important questions are settled either by consulting your mirror or your clothes, the rest is easy. The best-dressed men, having ascertained what perfectly suits their figure and type, do not jump, kangaroo-like, from one style to another. They vary it only in details from season to season.

Portrayed in the accompanying sketch is the 3-button Autumn and Winter lounge or business suit showing the English cutaway front, decidedly rounded off. The lapels are rounded, as well, to preserve unity of appearance. The coat is slightly flared to the figure and kept trim and scant over the hips. The back, which is draped rather than fitted, has no vent. Shoulders are natural and sleeves are straight. The trousers are the full-hanging English type, though not excessively wide at the bottom.

The 3-button and 2-button suits are the smartest sort this season. Colors are generally blue, gray, blue-gray, cocoa brown, heather-mixed and so on. Patterns are pin or pencil stripes or bold or subdued checks or light overplaids. Materials are mainly chevrons and unfinished worsteds. To determine what you look best in give yourself enough time to try different clothes on. One of the brightest chaps I know is your looking glass.

GOOD FOOTBALL OFFICIALS ARE HARD TO FIND

New York, Nov. 6.—Getting capable, competent football officials for the big college games is as hard a task as rounding out a satisfactory staff of big league umpires.

While the college football official does not come in for the public's disapproval as does the baseball umpire, there is a lot of bickering constantly going on among the college leaders in athletics.

Often it takes weeks of discussion before a satisfactory list of officials is made out for the big games.

Then if some official to whom a certain college objected, hands out a number of adverse decisions to that school, the feud is simply increased.

It is said a number of the big colleges of the east are keen for a governing hand for all forms of athletics. His position would be very similar to that occupied by Judge Landis in baseball.

It would not only be the duty of such a man to name the officials without consulting the colleges concerned but also straighten out any and all disputes that constantly arise in college athletics.

Under such a system the colleges would have nothing to say as to the officials. As a matter of fact the names of the officials would not be known until they walked on the field to start the game.

This would make for better officiating. The men in charge of the games would have no iron in the fire because they happened to be favored by a certain college.

In addition no official would feel that he would be jeopardizing his position when called upon to make a ruling that might decide the game.

Under the present system the making of such a decision would mean the scratching of the official's name by the college affected.

YORK BEAT TRAIPI IN GOOD GAME

Traip Academy, after the poorest year they have had in football, staged a come-back on Wednesday afternoon when they played York High to a standstill and the York team had to resort to a field goal to win the game, the final score being York 3, Traip 0.

A few weeks ago York defeated Traip, 21 to 0, and since that time Traip has met with some stiff reverses, but Coach Putman has been keeping the team going and the result was apparent in the game on Wednesday.

York rather looked for an easy victory but took nothing for granted, as Traip is their time honored rival. York carried the game to Traip but was met with a stubborn and, at times, brilliant defense, especially in the last period when they held York on their 5-yard line for four downs and then pushed the ball to the center of the field, where it was when the game closed.

Traip succeeded in blocking all efforts to score until the last period, when York worked the ball down the field but was held at the 10-yard line. Here Vickery dropped back and kicked a field goal from his 15-yard line and this proved to be the only score.

For the visitors the work of Banks and Goudy was much in evidence and for the home team Smart and Tilton were very much in the light on the defense, with Perry playing a good game at center.

The lineup and summary: York High (3) Traip Acad. (0). Vickery, lb., re., rt., Rhoades, Stove, lg., rt., Perry, LaPlante, c., Perry, Steve, rg., lg., Curran, lg., Grover, Horst, rt., Caddise, Abbott, re., lg., Grogan, Ellis, qb., qb., Catlin, Donnell, lb., lb., Smart, Hutchins, rb., lb., Garside, Goudy, rb., Banks, lb., Tilton, Field goal, Vickery, referee, Jackson; umpire, Whitman; linesman, Lucas; time, 4 1/2 min. periods.

DOVER WILL HAVE GOOD TEAM AGAINST LOCALS ON SATURDAY

The High school football team meets its old-time rival next Saturday when they play Dover High at the Playgrounds, and while at the beginning of the season it looked as though the locals would have things pretty near their own way, there is a difference now.

The Dover team has been improving steadily and have won many of their games, two weeks ago defeating Rochester High, which pinned a defeat on the 10-15. The locals have not been doing as well for their work in the last two games has not stamped them as champions.

On paper and in actual playing the locals look very good, but they have been crossed by some jinx this fall and always seem to pull the wrong play when the right one is needed. This was the case with Rochester and Newburyport, poor judgment in selections of plays being fatal.

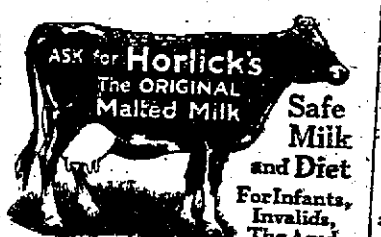

This week Coach Rice has been giving the team a hard workout, at least all who are not crippled, for there are several still on the injured list, although most of them may be able to get into the game Saturday. Noel is probably out for the remainder of the season and Simpson, while game, has been taking a lot of chances with his injuries. McCann will play a part of the game and Hatch will be back in the line. Voudy is better and will probably get into the game, but it is unlikely that Fridham will play.

U. OF N. H. AND U. OF M. PLAY AT DURHAM SATURDAY

The University of New Hampshire and the University of Maine football game at Durham on Saturday promises to be the outstanding college game in this section of the state. New Hampshire has undoubtedly the best team it has had for years and Maine has a team that will make anybody travel, so that Coach Cowell, while he expects his team to come through, looks for a tough game.

The game will be played at 2.30 o'clock. There are no reserve tickets, so first come first served. Owing to construction on the road between Dover and Durham, which necessitates a bad detour, it is advisable for automobiles to go by way of Stratham and Newmarket, that road being in excellent condition.

MEETING OF WINTER SPORTS ASSOCIATION THIS EVENING

The annual meeting of the Winter Sports Association will be held this evening at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 7.30 o'clock. There will be an election of officers and plans will be made for the winter. The plans so far outlined are to continue the toboggan slide 100 feet farther than at present and this will have to be done before the ground freezes. The lower part of the slide is now very dry and in good condition for the contemplated improvements to be made.

The inter sports program at the Pines last year was such a great success that there is every indication that it will be much greater this winter. It is hoped that skating and hockey, something that is very much in demand, may be added to last year's program.

Washington, Nov. 6.—President Coolidge issued a proclamation Wednesday formally proclaiming Thursday, Nov. 27, as Thanksgiving Day.

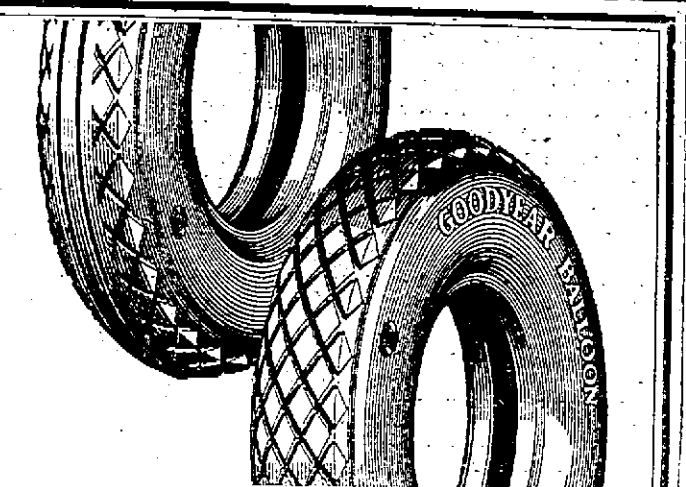

The proclamation urged that thanks be given because the year had been marked by a continuation of peace whereby "our country has entered into a relationship of better understanding with all the other nations of the earth," and because at home "we have continually had an improving state of health," with industrial production large and harvests bountiful.

There is a man in New York who has gone to the theatre every night for the last 15 years and yet has never seen a complete performance. He is employed by a company that prints the programs distributed in most of the playhouses on Broadway. The company prints only enough to provide each ticket holder with a program and his real job is to estimate the number of programs needed at the playhouses where dwindling audiences are encountered.

SNUFF BOXES IN OLD DAYS VERITABLE WORKS OF ART

For nearly 200 years, beginning in the second half of the 17th century and ending in the first quarter of the 19th, a snuffbox was the most conspicuous object in the personal use of man. The ritual of its use, which we now only see on the stage in romantic plays or in revivals of classical comedies, reflected the spirit of the times and the people of the countries in which it was used, the French polite world making this ritual as graceful and as charming as the jewelers of that land made snuff boxes things of the most exquisite beauty. When snuff taking was introduced into Europe the boxes were strictly utilitarian in character, fashioned of such materials as bone, horn, pewter, brass and wood, ornamented only by simple designs in incised lines.

But the intimate character of his personal accessory suggested enrichment and by the time the latter years of the 17th century had arrived goldsmith, jeweler, painter and enameler were outvying one another in the skill and imagination which they were bringing to bear upon the snuffbox. As usual in matters pertaining to personal adornment, France was leading the way in regard to refinement of taste and was producing works of art that spoke eloquently of the artistic sense of the donors and flattered that of the recipients.

The women, not to be outdone by the men, began equally to demand bonbonnières of precious metals inlaid with stones or inset with tiny paintings by the foremost artists of the day. These sweetmeat boxes so closely resembled the snuff boxes that it is often difficult to decide for which purpose they were originally intended.—International Studio.

There was reduction of 41 per cent in all accidents at highway crossings, and a reduction of 55 per cent in casualties as compared with same period last year, when a similar campaign was conducted.

May Change C. P. R. Terminal
As a result of what it believes to be excess wharfage charges at St. John, N. B., the Canadian Pacific Railway, with its fleet of big steamers and its enormous grain shipments, may transfer its terminal from the Canadian port to Portland, it was learned in Portland Wednesday, Traffic Manager George F. Feeney of the State Pier announced yesterday to that in a letter to the mayor of St. John, G. M. Rosworth, chairman of the committee on the steamship service of the Canadian railroad enclosed a letter from Portland in which the Canadian Pacific was offered the opportunity of making this port its terminal.

This action is an indirect result of the reduction by St. John authorities of wharfage charges at that port. Shortly following the announcement of the reduced wharfage charges, representatives of the steamship lines which use the port of St. John met and expressed dissatisfaction at the new rates. Mr. Rosworth, representing the Canadian Pacific, addressed a communication to the mayor of St. John, in which he voiced the opinion of shippers concerning St. John's charges and enclosed a letter from Portland authorities offering the use of Portland's facilities for the Canadian railroad's terminal.

Not long ago the mayor, chamber of commerce, and business men of St. John met and voted to reduce the top wharfage charges at that port, arguing that Portland offered distinct advantages to shippers. Subsequent to the actual reduction of the rates, shippers to and from St. John expressed their further dissatisfaction.

FARMS IN ALASKA HAVE UNUSUALLY LARGE ACREAGE

Farms! Most people begin to laugh when we Alaskans start talking about our flowers and our vegetable gardens and our wheat fields.

"Laugh, and show your ignorance," say we, to scoffers! That there are numerous wide tracts of land both in the Matanuska and Tanana-Yukon valleys of demonstrated agricultural value the reports of the Department of Agriculture abundantly prove. That these lands are greater in extent than the Scandinavian Peninsula farm lands, which today support 5,000,000 by agriculture alone, is one of those facts that only people with imagination will appreciate fully.

We live in large part in the same latitude as Sweden, Norway, and Finland, and are not only greater in extent than all three, but have a better climate. So, at least, I have been told by my neighbors here who have themselves come directly from Norway, Sweden and Finland. They tell me, too, that it is "easier to get a living here." Naturally, then, we have a large and ever-increasing Scandinavian population, for not only the interior but the fisheries on the coast attract these good immigrants greatly.

Estimates show that Alaska is quite capable of supporting from 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 people by farming alone, and yet our present white population is little more than 20,000 all told.

Frozen ground? Yes. But 24-hour suns, weeks on end, thaw the surface, and the updrawn meltwaters submerge the roots in a most ideal fashion. And do not laugh when I tell you that I own a small interest in a flour mill that we have recently built here in Fairbanks and which mills Tanana Valley wheat and provides our whole district and parts of the coast with as fine bread flour as the most fastidious cook could desire.—Mary Lee Davis in Scribner's Magazine.

RAILROAD NOTES

Fifty Years Ago.
The Eastern Railroad has discontinued the use of passage tickets and issued commutation tickets instead, which are good for the same number of rides and are punched by the conductor. This puts an end to all speculation in tickets.—Portland Express.

Big Consolidation

A Big Man in Politics

The greatest political genius in America today is Frank W. Stearns of Boston. It is only stating a fact to say that it was he who discovered the wonderful qualities and executive ability of President Calvin Coolidge. It was he who pushed him and urged him into public office and finally brought about his nomination for Vice President. Frank Stearns is one of the outstanding big men in America, and he, more than any one else, organized the republican party in the country. He goes about his work gently and methodically and does things in a big way. He knows the value of keeping faith with the public. The work he does is without any desire to shine in the public eye. He knows the wonderful make up of Coolidge and he has kept faith with him. Mr. Stearns is the greatest political general in America and his work is always clean and above board.

Murderers, Rich and Poor

There are nineteen men in Sing Sing prison under sentence of death. Clarence Darrow, the noted Chicago lawyer says that he will guarantee that "every one of those men awaiting death is there because he was without a good lawyer." You do not find rich men in the death house, he says, because they can afford to hire able lawyers.

This hardly comes with good grace from the lawyer who used his talents to keep the precious pair, Loeb and Leopold from the death house. Mr. Darrow, however, justifies himself by saying that he defends rich and poor alike because he is opposed to capital punishment.

There is something essentially unjust and undemocratic in the picture drawn, of poor murderers awaiting execution and rich murderers at large, or alive in prison and buoyed up by hope of liberty. A poor man's life is as precious to him as a rich man's. There should be no difference in their punishment for the same crimes. Either both should be executed for murder, or there should be no executions.

Money Scattered Abroad

The biggest broadcasting now being done anywhere is done by American tourists in Europe. They are broadcasting money, $300,000,000 of it. It is genuine broadcasting of the old fashioned sort done by the farmer. The tourists are sowing dollars and these dollars are veritable seed, destined in the normal course of events to bring forth many fold. The tourists are not moved by any purpose of aiding Europe directly or themselves indirectly with their dollars. They go to have a good time, "for to admire and for to see." Presumably they get the worth of their money or they wouldn't spend it so cheerfully, and go again at the earliest opportunity to spend more. But the millions they scatter around is the very bread of life to impecunious foreign countries, which are distressfully short of capital, whatever resources they may have.

Money spent for their goods and services will do them more good than loans. It will flow through their arteries of industry and trade. Stimulating their business, it will in turn improve the foreign demand for American goods and thus stimulate American business.

Governor-Elect Winant

Captain John G. Winant, our governor-elect will have no trouble in enacting the republican platform into the laws of our state. He should have the heartiest kind of support from his council and we believe he will. His election was a great personal tribute. The party is in new hands. There has never been any doubt about his election from the day he was nominated, and to defeat Governor Brown, one of the most popular men elected to office, was a big victory.

A Wonderful Chance

President Coolidge owes his election to no one man or group. Consequently he is free to act and to answer only to the people. He is expected to confer with his advisers, but he will not be obliged to appoint their own followers to office.

Will Bring Honor to State

Fletcher Hale will bring honor to the state as congressman from the first district. He has the ability and will prove an efficient representative.

Girls of the Hackensack, N. J., high school have forsaken flapperism. No more will the lipstick flash and the tight dress creak for want of more room. The Girls' Social Council has decided to "dress modestly, to the mild and sensible use of cosmetics and bar paint and powder, eyebrow pencils and cigarettes." Incidentally, "swearing in public places" is taboo. One almost wishes the girls had made a clean sweep and decided to cut out swearing altogether.

Income tax publicity may be a little more effective along in January, when the new blanks are being filled out.

NEWS OF THE NAVY AND NAVY YARDS

Want Marines for Game

The West End football team at Biddeford is seeking a game with the Marine team in the local yard for Armistice Day to be played in that city.

Expect 500 at Banquet

It is estimated that five hundred will sit in at the banquet to be held in the yard reading room on Nov. 11 when the memorial in the park at the entrance of the Interstate bridge at Kittery will be dedicated.

Start Made on V-4

Work on the submarine V-4 to be constructed in the local yard has been started in the drafting room and mold loft. The building ways for this ship have been completed with the exception of some minor changes that are likely to follow when the plans for the sub are finished.

Inspection Board Coming

A board of inspection from Washington will arrive in the local yard next week, probably on Monday to study the industrial methods of the station. The board is headed by Capt. John T. Tompkins, assistant chief of the Bureau of Engineering.

What is Going on in the M. C.

Orders shortly will be issued detaching Colonel Julius S. Turill from duty in the operations and training division of the headquarters of the Marine Corps and assigning him to duty elsewhere, probably at a foreign station. Colonel Turill for some time was in charge of that division, and he recently was relieved by Brigadier General Dion Williams, who came from command of the east coast expeditionary forces and the post at Quantico, Va.

Colonel Carl Gumborg-Andersen, who some time ago was ordered detached from command of the marine barracks, Puget Sound, Wash., has assumed command of the marines in Guam, relieving Colonel Philip M. Bannon, who now is en route to the United States to assume command of the barracks at Puget Sound.

Orders have been issued by the commandant of the Marine Corps directing that all officers and all non-commissioned officers above the rank of sergeant shall report at once to the headquarters of the corps the names, dates of birth, sexes, and relationship of all dependents that legally are entitled to transportation upon changes of station and from time to time as changes occur. This information is necessary when making arrangements for changes of station, and failure to forward it for file may jeopardize securing transportation for dependents.

Tawressey in Line for Rear Admiral

Rear Admiral Robert Stocker of the naval construction corps, has applied for retirement after 40 years' service, to take effect on March 1, 1925. This will create a vacancy in the grade of rear admiral of the corps, and the selection of a successor to Rear Admiral Stocker will be assigned to a selection board made up of high ranking officers of that branch. No other vacancies are created by the retirement. The selection is believed to be confined to the six senior captains—John G. Tawressey, for several years at the local yard, Elliot Snow, George H. Rock, H. G. Gilmore, Richard M. Watt and John D. Deure, the last named, of course, being the chief constructor. Rear Admiral Stocker was seriously ill with typhoid fever in the spring of 1923, after which he was given sick leave. Due to his slow recovery of strength, he was later relieved of his duties as assistant chief and head of the design division of the bureau of construction and repair and assigned to duty as superintendent constructor at the works of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company. Recently he was assigned additional duty as senior member of the navy section of the munitions board. Admiral Stocker has always been very prominent as one of the most able and distinguished members of the construction corps, and his advice has been sought on many important subjects. His natural ability as an engineer not only always has been of the greatest help in his work as a naval constructor, but has led to his assignment to various engineering problems requiring special and thorough study. His loss will be felt keenly by the construction corps and by the service at large.

A board of examiners, of which Captain William T. Robert is senior member, has been appointed to examine Lieutenant John I. Hale for advancement to the next higher grade. The same board will examine for promotion Lieutenant (j. g.) W. M. Hague, Lloyd Harrison, E. W. Sylvester, L. J. Maxson, N. E. Musser, H. C. Sexton, R. T. Cowdrey, L. T. Haugen, P. B. Nibbecker, W. F. Christmas, DeWitt C. Redgrave, W. R. Dowd, Philip Lemler, R. B. Dargatz, H. S. Van Buren, G. C. Calman, F. A. Tusler, C. M. Bolster, and M. D. Harris.

Seamen Get Medals

Seamen I. L. Mason and J. H. Smith and Seaman R. G. Robertson, pointers of 14-inch turret No. 4 of the U. S. S. New York, shortly will receive medals from the Admiral Trenchard section of the Navy League. These medals were won by them as the set of turret pointers making the highest merit during the last gunnery year. The medals now are in possession of the director of fleet training at the Navy Department, and they are about to be sent to the winners. The medals are of gold, and each man's name is engraved on the reverse side.

Quite a Shortage

The net shortage in petty officer groups of ratings is approximately 1,300, confined wholly to those ratings which commanding officers are authorized to advance without prior reference to the bureau to fill vacancies in complement. This shortage has been maintained at about the same figure for the past few months.

New Discharge Blanks

A new form of honorable discharge blank has been approved and is now in the hands of the engravers. A sketch of a modern battleship, taken from an actual photograph, will appear thereon in place of the battle cruiser on the present discharge. The new form will include a notation on the face that the discharge is a "testimonial of fidelity and obedience." The entries on the back of the discharge have been modified to bring them up to date.

Look This Up Boys

It has come to the attention of the bureau of navigation that on board a number of ships enlisted men have not sent in their applications for adjusted service compensation "bonus" on the ground that no blanks were on board. A supply of blanks was sent to all ships and stations of the Navy. If the supply has been exhausted application should be made for additional copies.

Will Receive Commissions

Thirteen men, the second class of naval reserve force seamen at the naval air station, Hampton Roads, recently completed training, making 27 men who have gone through the course at Hampton Roads since July 1. Seven of the thirteen who have just completed the course were from the 9th naval district, five from the 1st and one from the 3d. These men will receive commissions as ensigns, naval reserve force, class 5, and will be designated naval aviators (reserve force).

Will Take 4 From Civil Life

Lieutenant Charles R. Johnson, who recently came from duty in the Virgin Islands, has reported at the Navy Department for duty in the bureau of yards and docks. Lieutenant Robert L. McLeellan, who recently arrived at San Francisco from Samoa, has been assigned to duty at the navy yard, Portsmouth, N. H., to which station he will proceed via the bureau of yards and docks for short temporary duty. Orders have been issued directing Lieutenant Paul J. Halloran to stand detached from duty at the navy yard, Charleston, S. C., on November 22 and assigning him to duty at the naval training station, Great Lakes, Ill., with a delay of one month in reporting.

Arrangements are being made to fill four of the 14 existing vacancies in the naval civil engineer corps from civil life. Candidates must be American citizens between the ages of 22 and 30 years on January 2, next; must have received a degree in engineering; and must have had not less than 18 months' practical professional experience after graduation. Applications to take the examination must reach the Navy Department on or before January 1, next, and they must include statements of college records, testimonials, references, and professional experience, which will be considered by a board to conduct the examination. From a preliminary inspection of the applications the board will determine what candidates shall be authorized to report for physical and final oral and written examinations, which probably will be conducted at New York, Washington, Chicago, and San Francisco.

Change Date for Dancing

Beginning next week the date of weekly dance of the enlisted men will be changed from Saturday evening to Thursday evening.

Nearly Same as Navy Day

Practically the same program will be carried out in the yard on Armistice Day as on Navy Day for the benefit of the people who attend the dedication of the memorial tablet at Kittery on that date.

May Leave Wednesday

The submarine V-1 is expected to leave the local yard on Wednesday next for her second trial trip along the coast.

Leave Saturday

The S-12 and S-13 will leave on Saturday for New London.

Off Duty for 10 Days

Thomas F. Dudley watchman at the yard ferry landing is on ten days leave.

Will Use Old Smelting Plant

The former smelting plant in the yard is being fitted up with steam heat and otherwise made ready for workmen who will overhaul storage batteries there.

Ten Days Leave

Chief Clerk J. Fenwick of the Supply Department, is enjoying a leave of absence for 10 days.

To Sell Electrical Material
A public sale of electrical material will be held in the yard at 2 p. m. on Nov. 25.

Gunboat Jack, the Lawrence colored boxer, who has appeared in this city, appeared in the final event of the National Sporting Club show at Philadelphia with Young Miller of Philadelphia, and scored one of the finest victories of his impressive career when he knocked Miller out in the sixth round. It was a hurricane battle for five rounds. In the sixth the Gunboat got across his famous left hook which put Miller down for the count. Miller is a boy who has been creating a great impression. He boxed to a draw with Bobby Barrett and also held Lew Tendler to a draw.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Should Be Given a Show

Ed. Herald:—Portsmouth boasts of some very fine boxers, but they do not seem to receive a show in the local bout. Why is it? For example, there is Young Alberts, a boy who never takes but gives action every minute. The fans are assured of a real run for their money when Alberts is in the ring. Then there is another, his brother, who gives as much action as any semi-final boy in the state, yet he has fought but twice in this town. You can't knock and boost at the same time. They say keep the "old man" out of their corners. Young Alberts has lost but two fights in this city and won 15, yet they knock him. This is fine spirit. Another local lad who deserves recognition is Buddy Nichols.

NEWSY NOTES FROM NEW CASTLE

The Junior Circle of King's Daughters held its first meeting of the season Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Margie Amazeen. It was a sort of get together meeting of members and in charge of Mrs. N. H. Harten Scott, the new leader. The routine business was transacted and it was voted to have a Christmas sale of fancy work, cake and candy on Dec. 5 at Pythian Hall, when an entertainment will also be given.

After the business meeting had adjourned a social hour was enjoyed and all left for their homes at nine o'clock.

LOCAL DASHES

Quite a good sized crop of "I told you so."

Really we can soon advertise it is always June time in Portsmouth if this wonderful weather continues.

Several delegates from the South (Unitarian) parish are attending the meeting of the New Hampshire Unitarian Association at Laconia, held today and tomorrow.

Today is Donation Day at the Westworth Home for Invalids on Pleasant street and the community is responding well to the appeal for this worthy institution.

Cecil B. DeMille's fine dramatic spectacle, "The Ten Commandments," which will be presented at the Colonial Theatre on Nov. 17, 18 and 19, is a most unusual cinematograph composition, since the two parts of the story, continuous in theme and spirit, depict periods three thousand years apart. The introductory scenes are of ancient Egypt at the time of the Exodus. The scenes of the modern story are laid in San Francisco at the present time. In both stories the fundamental laws revealed to Moses on the heights of Mount Sinai are the dominating factors in the working out of the human problems involved in the two separate and distinct plots.

GAVE ABLE TALK

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's parish listened to an interesting talk at the rectory on Wednesday evening by Chaplain Pearce of the navy yard who spoke on China, Guantamano and the Sandwich Islands, describing the life, religion, customs and many things about the people. A social hour followed and refreshments were served.

GRAFFORT CLUB OPENS SEASON

Many Members Admitted at Business Session-Social Hour and Tea Follows

The Graffort Club opened its thirtieth season on Wednesday afternoon with a business session and club tea at Hotel Rockingham and the ball room was filled and the members showed much enthusiasm for the work of the coming year.

Mrs. Gladys C. Warren, the new president, took charge for the first time and presided most graciously. The meeting opened with the singing of "America the Beautiful" by all. A resolution was adopted by the club to go on record as standing behind all efforts for the better enforcement of law and order. Many new members were admitted at this meeting and were later heartily welcomed by the club. Mrs. Horace M. Wiggin gave a most interesting report from the State Federation meeting held at Claremont last May and to which she went as a delegate. Mrs. M. P. Alkon, who was a delegate from the club to the field meeting at Hanover, also gave a fine report from that gathering. Following the business session an informal social hour was held and tea, sandwiches, assorted cake and salted nuts served.

The Graffort Club was organized in May 1895 and is one of the local organizations of which Portsmouth is justly proud and it has done good work in the community. The club collect follows:

"Keep us, O God, from pettiness; let us be large in thought, in word, in deed. Let us be done with faultfinding and leave off self-seeking. May we put away all pretence and meet each other face to face—without self-pity and without prejudice. May we be never hasty in judgment, always generous. Let us take time for all things; make us grow calm—serene—gentle. Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straight-forward and unafraid. Grant that we may realize it is the little things that create differences; that in the big things of life we are as one. And may we strive to touch and to know the great common woman's heart of us all, and, O Lord God let us not forget to be kind."

The club has had fifteen presidents in the past, Miss Nellie F. Pierce, its first president and Mrs. Helen P. Wood, its third, passed away some years ago. Its other past presidents are: Miss Frances A. Mathes, Mrs. Mary I. Wood, Mrs. Frances N. Savoy, Miss Martha S. Kimball, Mrs. Ella M. Fraser, Mrs. Martha E. Brewster, Mrs. Sadie E. Cator, Mrs. Harriet A. Lovell, Miss Lillian A. Odell, Mrs. Mabel S. Locke, Mrs. Marion T. Rugg, Mrs. Clara B. St. Clair, Mrs. Carrie T. Gray.

The club will this year hold its regular meetings in the Rockingham ball room on the first and third Wednesday afternoons from Nov. 1 to May 1 inclusive.

The following is the club calendar for the year:

Nov. 19—Reciprocity Day, 11 a. m. to 4 p. m.

POND YIELDS BRUISED BODY

Authorities Believe White- field Man Was Murdered

Whitefield, Nov. 6.—The body of James Travers was found in the millpond near the Whitefield Manufacturing company plant yesterday by Robert McKelvey, who was on his way to work. County Solicitor M. T. Ryan of Berlin declared that Travers was undoubtedly murdered, as the body was badly bruised.

Travers had gone to the village Tuesday night to hear election returns and left for home about 1:30 yesterday morning with Emil Dube. They rode in a truck, which was put in the Travers garage. Dube says he went to his own house.

Mrs. Travers heard the door bell ring, but as she had retired it took some time for her to dress and open the door. She looked all around but could find no one.

County Solicitor Ryan took charge of the case for the state at once. He communicated with Dr. N. H. Kingsford of Hanover, state pathologist, who will hold an autopsy.

$1,000 REWARD OFFERED!

The Frank E. Booma Post, No. 6, American Legion, of this city, went on record last night at the regular meeting as offering a reward of $1,000.00 to the person who could be found in the city next week who did not have the time of his life at the sixth annual Armistice Dance which is to be held by the local Legion Post in Freeman's Hall on Tuesday evening, Nov. 11. This is the annual dance held on the anniversary of Armistice Day by the local Post and has always ranked high among social affairs of the season.

Marden's orchestra has been secured to furnish the music which insured a musical program of the highest order, one especially pleasing to local dancers. A pleasing scheme of decorating has been arranged by the committee in charge and the usual novelty dances which have made the Armistice Dances in the past ones to be remembered will be on the program.

A heavy advance sale of tickets is reported which points to this year's affair being one of the most successful in the history of the local Legion Post.

The remainder of the time was passed in sociability and late in the afternoon all left for their homes, having enjoyed the pleasant gathering.

CITY LEAGUE

Firemen Take the Game

The K. of C. team was on the small end of the battle with the Firemen in the City League on Wednesday night. The firemen went strong from the start and held a good lead in the several periods, four of the team banging the sticks for over 100. The K. of C. men did not roll their usual game as the nearest to the century line was Lynchey with 93. He led the team with 277, while F. Hersey for the firemen was high with 316. The summary:

Combating Coal Dust Blasts

Coal dust explosions, like the one seen in the above picture, have taken the lives of thousands of miners. But now the Federal Bureau of Mines believes it has found a way to combat them with this "dust cannon." It shows how a charge of black powder is fired which sends the dust, if there is any, spraying in all directions. That is warning to miners to stay at a safe distance. Pictures were taken at a bureau of mines test.

GOV. SMITH HAS 115,702 MARGIN

(By Associated Press)

New York, Nov. 6.—While giving 45 electoral votes to Coolidge and Dawes by a plurality approaching that attained by Harding and Coolidge in the Republican landslide of 1920 and placing the Republicans in control of its legislature, New York state re-elected Alfred E. Smith, its Democratic governor, by a margin over Col. Theodore Roosevelt that stood last night at 115,702.

The President and his running mate had 847,578 more votes than Davis and Bryan with 107 election districts, chiefly in rural sections, still uncounted last night. New York city went for Coolidge by 137,867, one election district remaining to be tabulated. Senators LaFollette and Wheeler received 450,994 votes in the state, 172,109 in New York city.

The personnel of the 43 New York representatives in Congress appeared to remain unchanged, although there was slight shift in the party lineup because Representative F. C. LaGuardia, elected two years ago as a Republican, and apparently re-elected, ran this year on the Socialist ticket.

Governor Smith's ability to withstand the Republican tide in the state was attributed to his popularity in New York city, which complete returns show that he carried by a plurality of 514,848 over Colonel Roosevelt, despite the fact that the head of the national Democratic ticket lost the metropolis as well as the state.

The vote in the entire state on governor, embracing returns from 7,450 election districts out of 7,562 stood:

Smith, 1,617,654; Roosevelt, 1,501,952. Outside New York city, including 4,489 districts out of 4,593, the totals were:

Smith, 651,029; Roosevelt, 1,032,185.

NORTH HAMPTON

North Hampton, Nov. 6.—The election here was one of much interest and called out a large vote. The check list registered 410 names and 399 voted. On the Presidential ticket, Coolidge had 253, Davis 90 and LaFollette had 3.

The ladies did their part well and came out strong for Coolidge and the straight Republican ticket.

On the vote for representative George W. Sennett, Republican, had a majority of 75, the vote being 299 for Sennett and 121 for Barton, Democrat.

Mrs. Julia E. Philbrook, one of our prominent ladies, who is 95 years of age and in remarkably good health, was present and voted for Coolidge and the straight Republican ticket. She has taken a great interest in this election and the news of the big victory gives her great joy.

Union lodge, Knights of Pythias, will hold a fair here three nights, Nov. 21 and 22. Some interesting attractions will be offered.

The Parent-Teacher association meeting will be held in Centennial hall on next Wednesday evening. It will be an interesting meeting and the public is invited to be present. The early history of the town will be taken up by several speakers.

The grange held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening. District Deputy Otis H. Eastman of Kensington was present for inspection. The next meeting will be held on Nov. 13 and will be open to the public. Commissioner of Agriculture Andrew J. Feller will be the speaker.

Freedom Temple, Pythian Sisters, will have their annual inspection next Tuesday evening. They will attend the district convention to be held in Exeter on Friday evening.

HIS BUSINESS TO DREAM OF MONEY

In a small office on the 10th floor of the Equitable building in downtown New York, a block from Wall street, sits a young man of 29 who is dreaming about money in hundreds of millions of dollars. Not his money, but yours and mine and everyone's. He has the most peculiar job in the world—learning how to spend a hundred million, or perhaps a half-billion, a hundred years or so from now.

Ralph Hayes, who, in a brief career, has been a newspaper man, executive of a civic club, soldier, secretary to a cabinet member, banker, and a member of the inner council of motion pictures, holds this strange job.

Frederick H. Coff, lawyer and banker of Cleveland, invented 10 years ago, a system to salvage the wasted wealth that exists in hundreds of thousands of small bequests, to conserve and weld these relatively small sums of money into a people's foundation comparable to the great Rockefeller, Carnegie and Russell Sage foundations.

There is nothing intricate or elaborate about the plan of the New York Community Trust of which Mr. Hayes is director. It is substantially the plan of the two score other people foundations. Briefly it is this:

First—One or more banks or trust companies agree to accept bequests for civic, charitable or education purposes and to invest prudently the principal of such funds.

Second—A carefully selected group of citizens (the committee on distribution) representatives both of the trustee banks and trust companies and of the public, supervises the disbursement of the income (and, under certain conditions, portions of the principal) of those bequests.

Third—The committee on distribution employs income customarily for the purposes specified by the donor. In the absence of such specification, it determines upon the use most conducive to the interests of the community. The donor, furthermore, retains assurance that if by lapse of years, originally designated beneficiaries become obsolete or harmful, the committee guarantees the application of such other objects as harmonize with the spirit of the gift and the needs of the community, and this without unreasonable display, expenses or litigation. —Edward M. Thierry, in Forbes Magazine.

A prisoner in the county jail made a plea to Sheriff Ellis Jones of Sacramento, Calif., that he be liberated Nov. 4 so that his record of 51 years of steady voting will not be interrupted. The prisoner is serving a 100-day sentence that will expire four days after the election. Sheriff Jones is giving the prisoner's plea serious consideration.

HOME SERVICE SECTION DOES FINE WORK

Since January, 1924, the Home Service Section of the Portsmouth Chapter of the American Red Cross has helped in adjusting the problems of 102 ex-service men. This does not include the 200 adjusted compensation blanks which have been filled out by that department.

The work has been entirely for the service and ex-service men and their families and includes help of all kinds. The work on compensation claims has decreased but the claimants still use the home service in replying to the many letters and papers which they receive from the Veterans' Bureau. The use of the supervisor's authority as notary public is a great help in the filing of these papers and is thoroughly appreciated by the men.

As the states fall into line and grant their state bonus the filing of applications and the follow-up work for the ex-service men on their claims has been most interesting.

Government insurance seems to be attracting the former service men and information and help in re-instating and converting their insurance forms no small amount of the work.

The neglect of the service men to make allotments to care for their families while they are away has been the cause of several domestic tangles. We have had splendid co-operation from the men's superior officers and have been able to help in adjusting matters of this kind.

Help in the filing of citizenship papers has been given in two cases. Medical treatment for the ex-service men whose disability is rated as less than ten per cent has been secured for five ex-service men.

Applications for victory medals and buttons are still being filed, but only in small numbers.

Legal assistance and the keeping of accounts for two families has been given. This service in one family will need to be continued for many years, as the family of six orphans is being cared for by a guardian who depends absolutely upon the advice of the Red Cross.

We have even ventured to the Pension Bureau in four instances in an attempt to straighten out matters for claimants who have needed assistance.

No small part of the work is the securing of information and data for chapters, asking for assistance in Portsmouth. 26 investigations have been made for out of town chapters. Reimbursement claims against the government for expenses incurred during the illness and death of ex-service men have been filed; applications for certificates in lieu of lost discharges have been made and arrears of pay claims adjusted. Two Canadian ex-service men have asked and received help in securing the proper medical treatment through the Veterans' Bureau.

The Portsmouth Home Service section of the Red Cross stands ready to do everything in its power for the ex-service man and his family. This is our first obligation and the need of the office has been well demonstrated by the large number of applicants who make use of the service.

The Red Cross performs certain services in accordance with its charter. A vital membership is essential for the proper maintenance of these services. The roll call is for the purpose of enrolling this membership. Inasmuch as Roll Call is successful, by so much is Red Cross service strengthened. The conduct of Roll Call is a duty not a choice.

SPOTS IN THE BIG ELECTION

Rev. Percy Caswell formerly of this city was elected to the legislature from Ward Four in Manchester on Tuesday.

John T. Dowd the veteran sheriff of Hillsborough County was about the only Democrat that survived the wreck of that party in Tuesday's election. He carried his county by a safe majority in the face of a strong Republican majority in all other offices.

BLONDES

Keep your hair from darkening! This new Swedish discovery brings back a rich, golden beauty even to the most faded and lusterless blond hair.

Ordinary shampoos make blond hair darker by removing much of the necessary oils. Very often blond-haired people think their hair is changing color when it is only the shampoo that is at fault.

No matter how faded or dull your hair may be, even if it has become much darker, the remarkable new Swedish LITENHAIR Shampoo—BLOXEX—will restore it quickly to its original golden beauty. Just one shampoo will amaze you. The hair becomes seven shades lighter, softer, more beautiful with each shampoo!

Why use ordinary shampoos for your hair? Blondes should use only this special light-hair shampoo and see how much prettier the hair becomes. It is absolutely harmless, contains no injurious chemicals, and is not a dye. A little for a large sized package is only a few cents. Your dealer will promptly refund the purchase price if you are not delighted with results. BLOXEX is on sale by all good drug and department stores, such as:

There is only one real reliable collector of election news and that is the Associated Press. Their bulletins as given out by The Herald at all times were correct and some time ahead of all other agencies.

The ward officers struck some queer marked ballots in such a big vote as Tuesday. In ward one there was one ballot which had just one vote for a ward selectman and another ballot which had a vote for the state senate and a ward selectman. While there were many ballots where people would only vote for a few on the entire ballot there were comparatively few ballots that were so defective as to be thrown out.

Some of the ward officers were on continuous duty from five o'clock in the morning until midnight, a long day.

The Republicans, by electing the ward officers in three of the wards, will again get control of the Board of Registrars of Voters which for the past two years has been in the hands of the Democrats.

Now get ready for the city election which takes place the first Tuesday in December.

POTASH IN DEAD SEA

Sioux Falls, S. D.—Recent investigations indicate the Dead Sea may become the greatest financial asset of the government of Palestine. It has been found the waters contain a strong precipitate of potash which by a simple process can be extracted at an expense of about $5 a ton.

Including transportation charges and governmental tax, the product can be delivered at the Port of Haifa at a cost of $15 a ton, it is estimated, against the price of $30 now obtaining for potash in Europe.

One night Robert Wilson, Los Angeles, went to the theater, and there on the other side of the footlights was the girl of his dreams. He was there again, the next night, and the next, until the show left for San Francisco, but not until Robert had tossed the girl a note and received a smile in return. Robert followed her to San Francisco, although it took all his savings to buy a one-way ticket. The show didn't open at once and he could not find the girl. He was very tired and hungry and broke. Welfare workers found him and wrote his parents for funds. For Robert is only 12 and the girl of his dreams, eight.

Who Knows These Youngsters?

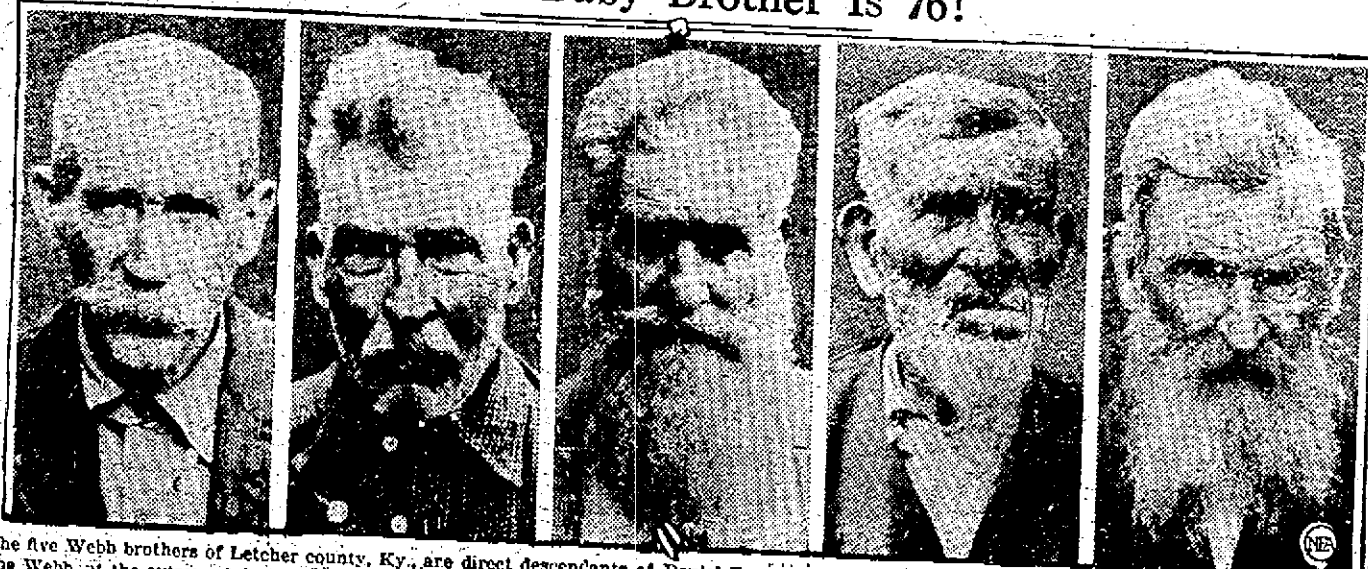

Who had the heart to abandon these babies? Chicago police would like to know. Two elegantly dressed women left them at a day nursery Oct. 3, saying they would call for them later. But the women have not returned. Billy, the youngster on the kiddie car, is about 2. Nicky, the little girl, sitting in the lap of Mrs. C. Greenleaf of the Home for the Friendless, is believed to be a couple months younger. Police of a dozen cities are aiding in the search.

LOWDEN WON'T TAKE PORTFOLIO

(By Associated Press)
Oregon, Ill., Nov. 5.—Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, in replying to farm organizations seeking to recommend him to President Coolidge for the post of secretary of agriculture, stated that because he felt that he could be of more help to farmers outside the department than as its head, he should, if the position were tendered him, feel it his duty to decline.

The former governor, who declined to be the Republican nominee for vice president, even after the Republican National convention had voted for him last June, telegraphed his reply to the various organizations which have requested his permission to endorse him for the secretaryship to succeed the late Henry C. Wallace.

Mr. Lowden's telegram follows: "Your telegram received asking me if it would be agreeable to me for your organization to endorse me for position of secretary of agriculture. I can't tell you how much I appreciate your interest. I have given the matter the best consideration of which I am capable. As I think you know, for a number of years I have been earnestly advocating farmers' organizations as the only method for permanent betterment of farm conditions.

"I am aware that it is often said that there are too many farm organizations. That may be true, but I am sure that there is not enough real, practical, effective farm organizations to put the business of farming on an equality with other industries in this highly organized world. Farmers have the power within themselves to effect such organizations. If they can be persuaded of the necessity of organization they can now organize independently of the department of agriculture. If they are not so persuaded, the department of agriculture can help but little.

"I am convinced that I can be of more service in helping to bring about the more effective organization of farmers or to the department of agriculture than I could in the department. For the head of the department must of necessity devote the largest part of his time to administrative routine. For the reason above given I shall have to ask you not to endorse me for the office, because it would be a disservice to the farmers if I were to decline it. I am none the less grateful, however, for your kindness in the matter.

"FRANK O. LOWDEN."

PROSPERITY REMINDS BERLIN OF DAYS BEFORE THE WAR

Berlin.—Amazing changes have come about in Berlin with the opening of the new theatrical and musical season, the business revival effected by the stabilized mark and the adoption of the agreement worked out at the London conference for the execution of the Dawes plan.

High-priced hotels are crowded; there are theatre and opera openings almost nightly, various German commercial organizations are holding conventions and conferences, directors of various shipping companies are preparing for the extension of their activities and hotel men have been encouraged to greater activity. Hotel lobbies are more brightly lighted and private dining rooms are again entertaining many parties. Berlin hotel keepers are especially jubilant over the dropping of the tax of 15 per cent which the city has imposed on all foreigners occupying rooms in Berlin.

Berlin's leading hotels are taking on an especially international aspect, and celebrities from all parts of the world are again appearing here as in previous days.

WOMAN AILING FOR A YEAR

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Happy Results

Newcastle, Pa.—"I was all run-down and everybody thought I was going into a decline. I had been ailing for a year with pains in my right side so that I could hardly stand on my feet. When I walked I felt as if something was falling. I was not able to do any work and had a nurse most of the time. She spoke to me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I gave it a fair trial. Some women think one bottle should cure them, but I did not stop at that. I took more and got better, and am able ever since to do my own housework. There was a time, when I would complain of not feeling well, that my husband would say, 'Go to the doctor.' But now he will tell me to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's, and it has always helped me. I have had druggists tell me that they had something better, but they don't tell me that now, for I take no other. I have been taking the Vegetable Compound now for five years. Any woman who cares to call or write, I will be glad to tell her how it helped me."—Mrs. MABEL LIST SHERBORN, 516 Newell Ave., Newcastle, Pa. For sale by druggists everywhere.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.
Newdays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mossy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

PLAN HOME COMING DAY AT DURHAM

Durham, Nov. 5.—Reports from Alumni associations and centers throughout the East indicate that the greatest home-coming day in the history of the University of New Hampshire will take place here Saturday. Enthusiasm, fired by the splendid record of the football eleven, is increasing daily and a record crowd is anticipated.

On Friday night the largest rally of the year will be held in the gym with an interesting program planned to include entertainment by the best of the student musicians, followed by a speech by Thomas J. Leonard of Nashua.

Mr. Leonard entered New Hampshire with the class of 1908, afterwards transferring to Dartmouth, where he starred in football and baseball. At the present time he is a lawyer in Nashua and was amateur golf champion of New Hampshire in 1922.

Saturday afternoon the football game with the University of Maine, New Hampshire's old rival, will hold the center of the stage. The largest crowd to ever witness a football game here is expected. Bleachers are being erected on the northeast side of the gridiron. Numerous additions, including a new score board, have been made on the athletic field, all of which will be in readiness for the opening whistle.

Saturday evening a dance will be held in the gym with music by the Blue Senenaders. Many of the fraternities have planned special programs for their returning members, to include banquets and other specialties.

SOVIET RUSSIA PUNISHES LIGHTLY FOR HIGH CRIMES

Moscow.—Persons guilty of murder and other crimes in Soviet Russia are punished with sentences so light that they will amaze American judges and public prosecutors. In most cases punishment for murder in the first degree does not exceed five years. It rarely exceeds 10 years, unless the crime is associated with banditry.

Punishment for other crimes, such as arson, forgery, robbery, rape, infanticide and criminal assault is correspondingly light. Bigamy is another offense which is only lightly punished. As marriage and divorce in Soviet Russia have been made very easy, however, there are relatively few cases of bigamy.

Death sentences are given only for counter-revolutionary activities, "economic espionage," counterfeiting, organized banditry and crimes against the state. But even in these cases capital punishment is sometimes withheld. A notorious case recently was that of Boris Savinkov, charged with widespread spying activities and other crimes against the Soviet. Although he confessed his complete guilt, he was given only 10 years in prison.

RAINCOATS FIND READY MARKET IN SEATHWAITE

London.—Seathwaite, in Borrowdale, has been picked out as "the wettest place in wet England." The meteorological department has published a table of the average annual rainfalls for the last 60 years, the prize falling to Seathwaite, which has recorded an average precipitation of 19.48 inches.

Seathwaite's actions in the matter of weather have been eccentric, even for the British Isles, and during the last half century this place has recorded an average of 1.06 inches of rain in June, but in August there has been an average of 8 inches.

London can claim to be one of the arid spots of England, with only 23.5 inches as an annual average.

PARIS MEASURES ROAD DISTANCES FROM TABLET NEAR NOTRE DAME

Paris.—Henceforth when the tourist automobilist round Paris sees that he is so many kilometers from the city, he will know that that distance is measured to a bronze slab that has been placed on the open space in front of Notre Dame Cathedral.

This slab, weighing 176 pounds, is set flush with the paving and is inscribed with a diagram showing the points of the compass and the arms of Paris, a ship tossed by the waves, with the device in Latin to the effect that she will float forever and never be submerged.

WILL PUT UP SIGN TO DISTINGUISH P. O. FROM A BARN

Pottsville, Pa.—By reason of its modest external architecture, the Federal Building in this city, in the rear of the huge coal palace of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, often is mistaken by visitors for a barn.

Because of this the government today authorized Miss Alice Krebs, postmaster, to have a big sign raised reading Pottsville Postoffice.

Officials deny that a farmer who tried to throw a load of hay into the building, caused this move.

A restaurant owner at Hoxie, Ark., has long had two pets, a monkey and a cat. The man's restaurant caught fire and was completely destroyed. The manager seized the monkey and carried it to safety. But the rescued creature struggled free and dashed back into the smoke and flames. When it reappeared it was at a window with the cat in its arms. Both animals were saved.

SCIENTISTS who make a specialty of forecasting weather conditions tell us that we are to have colder weather over the next three or four years than we've ever had before.

Persons who have put their fuel burdens on the gas company do not worry about weather conditions. They ceased worrying when they ceased from solid fuel to gas service. But those who have not yet turned to gas are up against the old problem—coal. Have you experienced the convenience of a gas-fired room heater—the appliance that gives you heat when you want it and where you want it? It does not take the place of a furnace but it supplements the central heating plant with the cleanest, most efficient fuel on earth.

POLISH BOY WINS COLLEGE COURSE BY CHESS GAME

There is a rather general belief that chess is not to be numbered among the so-called gambling games. Some people, indeed, do not look upon chess as a game at all; it seems more like a hardship to them. And the devotees of the thoughtful and quiet game of chess do not, as a rule, wager large sums in the result of the contests in which they engage. Their joy is intellectual rather than financial. If they win, and their sorrow in defeat bears not the dollar mark.

But a chess game that has proved extremely profitable to the winner is now reported, although at the time the game was played it is certain that no stakes were mentioned and it is reasonable sure that the winner did not know that he had laid up for himself a very considerable treasure. For the winner of the game was a Polish boy, aged 14, the loser was a Chicago millionaire and philanthropist; and neither could be called a chess gambler, although the loser was a chess prodigy.

The game the boy played—and won—interested the man of affairs. And now the boy, who has arrived at college age, is to have his college course financially attended to by the man whom he defeated at chess. It's a very pleasant story, and congratulations go to the youth who will doubtless learn many things in his college career, even beyond an admirable skill in playing an intellectual game; and congratulations go to the rich man, too, on his assumption of a gambling debt that wasn't a debt, and in the running up of which there was no gambling. Incidentally it may be said there are lots of clever boys who would like a chance to play chess or any other game with discerning millionaires and philanthropists, with the possibility of a paid-for college course in the offing.—Hartford Courant.

GIRL CHARGED WITH PASSING BAD CHECKS

Nashua, Nov. 5.—Ruth Bennett, said to be the wife of W. H. Bennett of Newton, Mass., and who posed in this city, Lawrence, Mass., and Kennebunkport, Me., last summer as a rich woman leaving behind her in many places a trail of alleged worthless checks, was held in $1000 bonds in municipal court today for the January term of the Hillsborough county superior court. She was arraigned on four charges of passing worthless checks and larceny of cash from local merchants. According to the police she admits the checks were worthless. With her alleged husband she bought an expensive automobile while here. According to her story, the couple went from Nashua to Kennebunkport, Me., and spent the season at leading hotels there, paying again by worthless checks.

Meanwhile she said her "husband" returned to Newton and she became acquainted with a young man at Kennebunkport. They started west in the auto purchased here.

When they reached Kansas City they were without funds and she tried to sell the auto. Inquiry was made of Nashua agents to ascertain if the auto was clear of debt, which led to the location of the young woman.

SUPERSTITIONS ON ISLE OF SCOTLAND

The western isle of Scotland have many superstitions. Among them is a large number connected with various supernatural beings haunting farms and buildings. Of these being the Glaisig and the Urisk were the most familiar.

The Glaisig was a woman of human race who had been put under enchantment. She was of wan and gray aspect and wore a green dress. Like the fairies, she had a noiseless, gliding motion and the power of making herself invisible. She was addicted to muddling at night with the spinning wheel and tradesmen's utensils and had ability to grant skill in handicrafts to her favorites.

Her custom was to give the choice of "ingenuity without advantage" (cashless gun rath) or "advantage without ingenuity" (rath gun cashless). Those who chose the former turned out clever workmen, but never prospered, and those who chose the latter proved stupid fellows who made fortunes.

She was solitary in her habits and had a special interest in cows and the dairy. A portion of milk was set apart for her every evening, and unless this was done something was found amiss in the dairy next morning.—T. P.'s and Sasse's Weekly.

DIRECTORS ENTERTAIN

The members of the Portsmouth Athletic Club were royally entertained Tuesday evening by the directors. A roast beef supper with all the fixings was served at 6.30 o'clock to the members who numbered nearly 100. Following the supper an entertainment with radio and wire returns from the election, was listened to until a late hour. Much political interest was manifested, as the bulletins came pouring in and the radio with its oral returns made the evening pass quickly. It was a gala night for the members, who were most appreciative of their hosts' hospitality.

EXPECT GOOD BOUTS TONIGHT

The fight fans are looking forward this evening to a good evening of boxing at the Bellevue Club is staging a good card. Al Sears of Boston is starting against Tommy French of Somersworth and if Sears is in condition and anywhere near his usual form, he should be able to administer what the most of the fans would like to see, a good whipping to French. The Somersworth lad is not a popular fighter among the local fans who think that he is inclined to pull as much rough stuff as he can and get away with it, but with Sears he should have some trouble for this experienced lad has met tougher boys many times before. Kewpie Roy of Manchester and Frankie Gray of Nashua will come together in the semi-finals, a new combination for while Roy is well known here Gray is a stranger, but his reputation is very good. The preliminaries are two four round bouts that look fast and interesting.

METHODIST NOTES

On Wednesday evening a good number of young men gathered in the vestry of the church and sat down to supper with James Smith, Lee H. Brow and the pastor. The occasion was the organization of a Sunday school class for young men, to be taught by Mr. Brown. Brief talks were given by Mr. Smith and Mr. Brow and a committee was appointed to draw up a form of organization and nominate officers. This committee will report at the first regular meeting of the class next Sunday. The supper was served by a committee consisting of Mrs. James H. Smith, Miss Miriam Schurman and Mrs. E. S. Tasker. Later in the evening the Brotherhood held its monthly meeting. Herbert Gupill, the president, presided. Community song books were distributed and the men enjoyed a good sing around the piano. Judge Edward H. Adams gave the address of the evening on "Good Citizenship." The address was a well thought out and beautifully worded presentation of the theme and revealed much historic research on the part of the judge. All present were glad to give the speaker a rising vote of thanks for his splendid speech. Refreshments were served and the men spent a pleasant hour exchanging stories and experiences.

RYE

Rye, Nov. 6.—A membership reunion of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Christian church was held at the home of Mrs. Herman Rand on Wednesday afternoon, 30 being present. After the business meeting a social was enjoyed, the hostess serving refreshments of cake, wafers and tea. The thanks-offering service conducted by the society will be held on Nov. 16, at which time the annual thanks-offering will be taken.

EX-GOVERNOR WINS ELECTION

Manchester, Nov. 6.—Another former governor will sit in the House of Representatives at the 1924 session. Last year Robert P. Bass of Peterborough, former chief executive of the state, played a prominent part in the House. This year former Gov. Albert O. Brown will represent Ward 3 of this city in the lower branch of the Legislature. Mr. Brown was elected in the third ward at the expense of State Probation Officer Ora W. Craig, chairman of the House Labor committee and an active worker for the passage of a 48-hour law.

COOLIDGE CARAVAN ENDS TRIP

Ballingham, Wash., Nov. 5.—John P. Cowan of Portsmouth, Pa., manager of the Coolidge-Dawes-Lincoln caravan of six automobiles, bearing Plymouth, Vt., friends of President Coolidge, has received a telegram from the President in which he expressed his appreciation of the manner in which the tour was conducted. The caravan ended its trip of 6,500 miles through 17 states, with a demonstration here.

KITTERY

Kittery, Nov. 6.—A jolly good time was enjoyed last evening by grange members at their regular meeting. Visitors were present from Strawberry Bank, John F. Hill and York granges. The first and second degrees were conferred on a class of candidates. After the business of the evening was over the lecturer, Mrs. Chester J. Wheeler, announced the following program:

Pantomime, "America," in costume, Miss Sadie Bowden. Soloist, Miss Helen Rhodes. Accompanist, Miss Mildred Gerry. Reading, Mrs. Chester Wheeler. Vocal solo, Mrs. J. Byron Phillips. Farce, "Why Women Vote." Cast of characters:

Mrs. Jamison, "The Queen of Clubs," Mrs. Chester Wheeler. Helen Jamison, her daughter, sentimental 17. Miss Anna Culbertson. Mrs. Delano, a wealthy lady homeless from choice, Mrs. Clarence Hackney. Mrs. Brownell, the mother of six.

Hannah, old-fashioned New England help, Miss Helen Rhodes. Piano solo, Miss Sadie Bowden. Reading, Mrs. J. Edgar Burnham. Violin solo, Mrs. Charles Rudolph.

Pantomime, "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," Misses Sadie Bowden, Helen Rhodes, Mildred Gerry. The pantomime work by Miss Bowden was prettily performed. She was crowned in white with trimmings of red and blue. The farce presented by red ladies made a great hit and caused much merriment, each part being acted in a very natural way by well known amateur players. The piano solo by Miss Bowden was greatly enjoyed, as was the violin solo by Mrs. Charles Rudolph, a "newer" member of the grange who it is hoped will be heard frequently in the future. Mrs. J. Byron Phillips never fails to please her audience and last evening was no exception. At the close of the program the judges, Messrs. William Kennard, Edwin Blaisdell and Mrs. Elwood Whittemore of Elliot and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Witham of Portsmouth, rendered their decision, much merriment being caused by their remarks. Their duty was to decide whether the gentlemen or the ladies presented the best program, the gentlemen presenting their program a few weeks ago. The decision seemed very satisfactory to those concerned. Refreshments of sandwiches, doughnuts, cheese and coffee were served by Mrs. Stillman Bowden, Mrs. Edwin Chase, Mrs. Edgar Burnham and their assistants. The hall was prettily decorated with Hallowe'en trimmings.

CALEB GURNEY DIES IN BOSTON

Was Author of Portsmouth Historic and Picturesque

Caleb S. Gurney, a former resident of this city, passed away Wednesday in Boston after a brief illness.

Mr. Gurney was for several years engaged in the photography business in this city. He was deeply interested in the historical affairs of Portsmouth and in 1902 produced a photographic history under the title "Portsmouth Historic and Picturesque" which contained much valuable information relative to the old colonial dwellings and other points of historic interest, with extensive illustrations. He had resided in Boston during the past fifteen years.

Services will be held at the Buckminster chapel, No. 7 Lexington street, this city, at nine-thirty o'clock Friday morning.

ELECT FORMER LOCAL WOMAN

A well deserved honor was bestowed Nov. 4 on a former resident of Portsmouth when Mrs. George Lamprey Worcester, Republican, of Dover was elected representative. Mrs. Worcester has been prominently identified in political affairs and in every good work pertaining to the welfare of her city. The civic improvements to her credit are many. Mrs. Worcester was urged to become a candidate for the position by some of the leading politicians of the state who have, for some time, recognized her ability in matters political. Her many friends in this city join in the congratulation. Mrs. Worcester attended school in Portsmouth, graduating from the P. H. S. and has a mother and two sisters, Miss Anne Lamprey and Mrs. Blanche Beacham residing in this city.

HORTICULTURAL EXHIBIT

Rochester, Nov. 6.—The 30th annual exhibition of the New Hampshire Horticultural society opened in the City Opera House yesterday. There is a fine exhibition of fruit and canned goods from all over the state. Features of the exhibition are displays presented by boys and girls clubs of the state, one-half of the sales being allotted to them. Besides their work in canning, the girls show their skill in sewing and dressmaking. Garden products are shown by the pupils of the Allen and Conic schools of this city and Rochester High school.

In the afternoon in the council chamber there were addresses on "Modern Methods of Insect Control" by Prof. P. R. Lowry, and on "Planning the Year's Work in the Orchard" by Prof. George F. Potter, both of the

THIS picturesque and feminine little frock departs from the straight and narrow and certain-ly no one could mind it in the least. It is of lustrous black satin with a tulle waist and full skirt with a cascade of roses in natural color applied on the waist and bands of plucked on the waist and skirt. About the hips is a bit of embroidery in gold thread.

University of New Hampshire. Prof. Potter is state horticulturist.

ELEVEN WOMEN IN LEGISLATURE

The entering wedge of women members which invaded the state legislature two years ago has gathered strength this year and the feminine bloc in the House has reached no mean proportions as a result of Tuesday's elections. Manchester's three Republican women members, Mrs. Arthur S. Tantis, who returns for a second term, Mrs. Hobart Pillsbury and Dr. Zatae L. Straw, will be matched by three others from the North Country city of Berlin, Margaret H. Barden, Jennie Fortier and Mary Chapman, the first two of whom are Democrats. Nashua will also send a women representative, Victoria Langlois, who is a Democrat.

Among the towns Republican women representatives will go from Wil-mot, Atkinson and Andover, the last named one of the state's old-time Democratic strongholds. These will be Mrs. Imogene V. Emmons of Wil-mot, Mrs. Marla F. Hilton of Andover and Nellie J. Page of Atkinson. Helen J. Young, Democrat, will represent Easton in Grafton county.

BOWLING

A. & P. Teams on the Alleys
The Portsmouth employees of the A. & P. Tea Co. were on the Arcade alleys on Wednesday night in a bowling match with the A. & P. men from the Salem stores. Salem led the Portsmouth bowlers in all three periods and the work of the visiting team was more steady. Heidreich for Salem could not break away from the 67 mark and went with the same figures to the finish. Berry for Portsmouth had nearly the same record. A return match will be rolled in Salem. BARN DANCE DRAWS A BIG CROWD

The fourth annual barn dance with

Karle Rhodes Crescent Gardens Orchestra brought out a tremendous crowd at Freeman's Hall last evening and the success of previous years was repeated. This orchestra has a reputation all its own and is considered one of New England's best dance music dispensers. The concert was full of pep and fun and was the sort the dancers took to readily. The dancers were arranged in all kinds of rube costumes which with the decorations around the hall gave a most brilliant setting for the onlookers to gaze upon. The winners of the best costumes were Miss Betty Brown and Arthur Bishop who had suits of original rube character. The orchestra kept things going during the entire evening and there was not a dull moment for either dancers or spectators.

PORTSMOUTH FAMILY LOSE SUMMER HOME

Fire Destroys Property of Ira St. Clair at Webster Lake With Other Cottages

Fire which broke out in the summer home of J. M. Shaw at Webster lake, near Franklin, on Wednesday afternoon destroyed the cottage of Ira St. Clair of Portsmouth. The Shaw building and one other, owned by secretary of State Enos K. Sawyer, were burned to the ground. The fire started while a party of Unitarian ministers were gathered in the Shaw cottage for a meeting. They were about to sit down to supper when someone saw flames coming up from one end of the piazza. Flames were seen at the same time in other parts of the building and the ministers had barely time to escape.

The fire quickly spread to the nearby Sawyer and St. Clair property, which were destroyed before assistance came. A pumper arrived from Franklin after one of the ministers had sped to the city in an automobile to summon help.

The origin of the fire is not known, but it is thought it may have started from a defective wire in the Shaw cottage.

The Shaw, Sawyer and St. Clair cottages, with their contents, were complete losses. Many valuable heirlooms in the Sawyer cottage were destroyed. The loss to the other cottages was small. The buildings which were burned were only partially insured.

The fire threatened the entire cottage section at one time. The loss is estimated at $15,000.

FIRST VOTED FOR PIERCE

To the list of elderly voters that cast their ballots Tuesday we would add the name of Orin H. Littlefield of Sagamore avenue, who was 94 years of age the 20th of last month and was probably the oldest man voting in this city.

His first vote for President was for Franklin Pierce in 1862, and four years later for Fremont, the first Presidential candidate of the Republican party, and he has voted with that party ever since. Mr. Littlefield is the grandfather of Representative-elect Harold A. Littlefield of Ward 2.

A road is to be named in honor of a novel. The highway from Marian County, Ky., to the Virginia line will be known as The Trail of the Lonesome Pine as a tribute to John Fox, Jr., author of the novel of that name.
